

Jews, Land and Climate Café

An Art Sharing and Workshop for Jews, Our Friends and Allies

Jews, like all peoples, are deeply connected to the earth, to all life forms, and to the places where we live. Antisemitism, however, has historically led to Jews losing our multigenerational connections to the many lands in which we have existed. We warmly invite Jews, and our friends and allies, to join us in this workshop where we will be sharing artworks – poetry, songs, visuals – in celebration of Jewish connection with the living environment, both past and present. Together we will look at ways that Jewish engagement with climate action can be a key part of healing from antisemitism.

Friday, September 22, 10:30 am -12:00 pm optional listening circle follows

12 East 41st Street, 7th Floor

Tools for Climate Organizing

Sustaining All Life (SAL) and United to End Racism (UER) are international grassroots organizations working to end the climate emergency within the context of ending all divisions among people. As part of New York City Climate Week, SAL/UER will present many interactive workshops that address barriers to resolving the climate emergency. Our events will also show participants how to exchange effective listening to free themselves from the emotional harm resulting from oppression and other hurtful experiences—harm that can interfere with thinking about and responding effectively to the climate crisis.

Sustaining All Life
www.SustainingAllLife.org

United to End Racism
www.UnitedToEndRacism.org