

Voices from the Frontlines of the Climate Emergency

We welcome activists on the frontlines of the climate crisis to this forum to talk about the impact of climate change on their countries and in their communities. It will offer everyone a unique and personal opportunity to better understand the current threats of climate change in the Global South. This will also be an opportunity to share individual stories of activism that communicate determination, hope, and courage.

Friday, September 22, 1:30 am - 3:30 pm

optional listening circle follows

Tools for Climate Organizing

Sustaining All Life (SAL) and United to End Racism (UER) are international grassroots organizations working to end the climate emergency within the context of ending all divisions among people. As part of New York City Climate Week, SAL/UER will present many interactive workshops that address barriers to resolving the climate emergency. Our events will also show participants how to exchange effective listening to free themselves from the emotional harm resulting from oppression and other hurtful experiences—harm that can interfere with thinking about and responding effectively to the climate crisis.
